

Be aware of cyber-attacks on LinkedIn

To all LinkedIn users, be aware! There is an increase in cyber-attacks targeting LinkedIn accounts. It is your responsibility to protect your personal information.

Social media fraud, what is it?

The cybercriminal may try to guess your passwords, block your account, or successfully steal your account. If necessary, they can then compromise other users through social engineering tactics or ask for a ransom to unblock it.

What are the fraudsters tactics?

- › Using your profile information to guess the answers to your security questions
- › Using false accounts
- › Posting malware links on your feed
- › Using deceptive content

5 tips to help you protect yourself from cyber-attacks:

1. Protect your online account by choosing a strong and unique password for each platform
2. Use a password manager
3. Limit the amount of personal information you share
4. Monitor your privacy settings to control who you share your information with
5. Beware of fake accounts

What to do in case of a cyber-attack

- › Contact social network on which you have noticed the fraud immediately
- › If you have identified a fraudulent transaction in your bank account, contact your financial institution immediately
